The Christmas News rush was no sooner over at the postoffice than it was followed by a new demand for work, "Utah, the Inland Empire." A big number of these handsome art works was sent away to people interested in Utah, and Salt Lake; they will form just as handsome a New Year's gift as they did a Christmas present.

News of a wedding which took place at Farmington, September 18, 1902, has been made public, the contracting parties being Reuben Romney and Miss Bertha Schwin. A peculiar sneak thief trick was played on B. T. Lloyd yesterday at the postoffice. He had put his postoffice key into the box, and turned his head for a moment, when an adroit thief standing by quickly snatched the bunch of keys from the box and disappeared in the crowd before Mr. Lloyd could get his breath back. The loss of that bunch of keys is a great inconvenience as they include Mr. Lloyd's office, residence and trunk keys. The thief evidently intended to hold the bunch for a reward "and no questions asked."

The poor of the Ninth ward were well provided for on Christmas day by the bishopric of the ward. A committee was appointed several days before Christmas to solicit contributions among the residents, who responded freely, and a goodly quantity of clothing, provisions and delicacies was received at the meeting house on Christmas morning. Another committee attended to the distribution of the donations and 30 people were supplied with an abundance of the substantial of life.

THE "NEWS" ANNEX ALMOST READY

As evidencing something of the demand for quarters in fire proof buildings in Salt Lake it is interesting to note that nearly all the space in the Deseret News "Annex" has been rented for some time, although the building is not yet finished.

The "News" operating departments will occupy the three upper floors, the city editor and reporters, the front of the fourth floor, and the remainder of the entire fifth floor, and the remainder will be divided up into miscellaneous office rooms. The entire basement will be used for the job presses of the "News," and as a store room for the book store.

GROCERY STORE BLAZE.

Fire Department Had a Lively Time On Market Row This Morning.

There was rather a costly blaze on West First South early this morning and the damage done will foot up to at least $1,500. The fire was in the grocery store of S. J. Levy, 68 West First South, on what is known as Market Row. The exact cause of the fire was not learned but it is thought that a fire had been left burning in the stove and that a live coal had fallen to the floor and started the fire.

A passerby saw the building in flames and turned in the alarm. When the fire fighters arrived the blaze had a good start and was fought for fully an hour before finally extinguished.

While the main building was burning a small structure at the rear caught fire and was soon enveloped in flames. Asst. Chief Wood broke the door down and assisted some of the men in carrying articles out and he narrowly escaped serious injury if not death. Just as he was leaving the building, the roof caved in. Chief Wood leaped to the door just in time to escape the falling mass.

The loss is estimated at $1,500, including building and stock. The latter was worth about $1,100, while the loss on the building is $400. Owing to the prompt and efficient work of the firemen, none of the adjacent buildings were damaged.

BREAKS OUT AGAIN.

Markland, the Mining Man Makes Another Wild Demonstration.

C. B. Markland, manager of the Conkle sampling works, was arrested by Officer Johnson last night and locked up in a cell at the city jail on the charge of threatening to shoot his wife. The arrest was made after 1 o'clock at Markland's home, 79 south Twelfth East, and according to the statements made by Mrs. Markland, her husband chased her through the house trying to get a shot at her. The woman ran out of the house pursued by Markland, as she says, and her screams attracted 20 men who were passing, and they seized Markland, threw him to the ground, disarmed him and called for the police. The patrol wagon was sent to the scene and Officer Johnson placed Markland under arrest. Mrs. Markland swooned after her husband had been rendered harmless, and is in a state bordering on nervous prostration. Dr. Kerr was summoned and did all he could for the unfortunate woman. It is thought that a charge of insanity will be filed against Markland, but if that is not done, it is more than likely that a criminal charge will be lodged against him. This is the second time he has been arrested for flourishing a gun and threatening to shoot.

As near as can be learned, Markland went home about 10:30 last night, and going to his wife's room with a gun in his hand, tried to get a chance to shoot. The terrified woman fled through the house screaming at the top of her voice, and finally ran out on the street. When the two men interfered, Markland fought viciously, but was overpowered and held until the patrol until 1 o'clock when the police arrived.
